Social Prescribing

Southend's Social Prescribing Service supports patients, aged 18+, with their health and wellbeing needs.

Patients visit their GP for a range of different reasons and sometimes these issues can be caused by non-medical matters such as loneliness, anxiety, unemployment, illness or debt.

Patients, referred by their GP, talk with a Social Prescribing Link Worker to discuss their concerns, this includes help to access appropriate support in the community and support to make positive changes to their personal wellbeing.

Link Workers support patients with follow-up contact to track progress. Link Workers also update patient GP records on progress, referral pathways and outcomes before discharge.

If you want to find out more about social prescribing and how it might help you contact your GP Practice.

Blood Pressure checks. High blood pressure is a major cause of heart attack and strokes but usually has no symptoms until it's too late, which is why it's known as 'the silent killer'.

If you are under 40 and you don't know your numbers, it's a good idea to have a check, especially if you're carrying extra weight, you smoke, or you have any of the other health problems. If you are over 40: you should get a blood pressure check at least every five years. If your Blood pressure is high/low book an appointment with your GP to start to make lifestyles changes and get the medical support you need. You can visit your local pharmacist, GP or use a reliable home device.

NHS Health Checks are like an MOT for people. Once every five years, it measures your circulatory and vascular health, looking for factors that could mean you are at higher risk of diabetes, heart disease, kidney disease, stroke and dementia. Anyone aged 40 to 74 years who doesn't have a pre-existing condition and who hasn't had a NHS Health Check in the last five years is eligible for a NHS Health Check. Every GP practice in Southend-on-Sea is inviting people to attend a NHS Health Check. This is a rolling programme, so you might not have received your invitation yet. If you prefer not to wait for an invitation, contact your practice and ask for a NHS Health Check appointment.
